

Teaching Evaluations

Roxana Gonzalez-Cortes, Ph.D. Candidate, University of South Carolina

Course: ECON 224, Introduction to Economics (Instructor of Record), Spring 2026

Responses: 27 of 44 students (61%)

Instructor Ratings

(1 = Strongly Disagree, 5 = Strongly Agree)

Item	Mean	Median
I was able to reach my instructor when needed, and they were responsive to my questions and concerns.	4.63	5
This instructor treated students with respect and created an environment in which students felt encouraged to participate.	4.59	5
The instructor displayed willingness to provide me with help and guidance.	4.58	5
Overall, the instructor was effective in teaching this course.	4.26	4
The instructor carefully explained difficult concepts, methods, and subject matter.	4.07	4

Selected Student Comments

What about this instructor impacted your learning experience the most?

“Professor Roxana’s clear explanations and use of real-world examples had the biggest impact on my learning experience. She was able to break down economic concepts in a way that made them easier to understand and apply. Her lectures were structured and organized, which helped me follow along with the material and stay engaged.”

“Intelligently helpful in aiding to work through unknown problems and find solutions. She provided a clear perspective and way to simply work through harder problems.”

“She was extremely kind and understanding about needing to make things up or change dates and she really values the opinions and comfortability of her students.”

What aspects of this course impacted your learning experience the most?

“The lectures and assignments in this Introduction to Economics course had the biggest impact on my learning. The lectures helped explain key concepts clearly, and the assignments reinforced those ideas by allowing me to apply them to real-world examples, which improved my overall understanding of the subject.”